UPDATE: Alleged Incident Involving an APD Officer

Alamogordo, NM Monday, September 24, 2018 The City of Alamogordo is aware of the alleged incident involving an Alamogordo Police Department Officer that took place over the weekend at Gerald Champion Regional Medical Center. Pursuant to standard operating procedures, the incident has been turned over to the New Mexico State Police for investigation. Pending the conclusion of the State Police investigation, the City of Alamogordo has no further comment at this time.

UPDATE: Thursday, September 27, 2018 In conjunction with the ongoing New Mexico State Police investigation, the Alamogordo Police Department is continuing its administrative investigation surrounding an incident that occurred on September 23, 2018, at Gerald Champion Regional Medical Center involving an off-duty Alamogordo Police Officer.

The Alamogordo Police Department takes all allegations of officer misconduct very seriously. The officer involved in this incident was placed on administrative leave pending the outcome of the investigation.

While it is the intent of the Alamogordo Police Department to maintain transparency at all times as to ensure public trust, we must respectfully ask for the continued patience of the general public as this is an ongoing investigation.
